

MITCHELL WILL MEET WRIGHT

Chief of Strikers and Labor Commission to Have Conference in New York.

MAY END TROUBLE

Railway Men Can Refuse to Haul Non-Union Miners on Trains.

IS GREAT REJOICING

New York, June 9.—United States Labor Commissioner Wright refuses to discuss the program mapped out by President Roosevelt for the settlement of the coal strike, but it is believed he will first see the presidents of the big coal trusts and after obtaining their views will see the strike leaders and finally report the result to President Roosevelt.

Mitchell Sent For
Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 9.—President Mitchell this morning received, from United States Labor Commissioner Wright an invitation to meet him this evening in New York to discuss plans for a settlement of the coal strike. Mr. Wright has just returned to New York from Washington, where he had a long conference with President Roosevelt. Mr. Mitchell accepted the invitation and left for New York at eleven o'clock this morning.

Would Not Talk.
Mr. Mitchell refused to discuss the proposed plan of settlement. He said he was in ignorance of the nature of the plan on settlement spread rapidly and caused great jubilation among the merchants and strikers.

Look To Railway Men
"All eyes are centered" upon the railroad men today for the next big move in case the strike conference between Mr. Wright and Mr. Mitchell fails to bear fruit. During the week it is said the railway men will hold meetings, decide upon their course with reference to hauling non-union men to and from the collieries and it is not unlikely that they will follow the example of the employees of the Delaware, Susquehanna and Schuylkill men who were declared on Sunday that hereafter they would refuse to handle trains upon which non-union men and special guards were being transported.

"BAT" MASTERSON HAS MORE TROUBLE

Charged With a Gigantic Swindle He is Fined for Carrying Revolver.

New York, June 9.—"Bat" Masterston, a noted Westerner, who was accused of complicity in the swindling of Edwin Snow, son of the late Mormon leader, out of sixteen thousand dollars on a crooked faro game, was today fined ten dollars for carrying concealed weapons. The Snow charge was dismissed.

Has A Bad Record

"Bat" Masterston, the man fined for carrying concealed weapons bears a record second to no westerner living today for intrepid courage and reckless daring. For many years he was sheriff in the balmy days of Kansas when daily shooting matches were a necessity to make life worth living. He has killed many men while in pursuit of his duty but has never been indicted for murder. Of late he has made his home in Denver where he ran a fighting club and gambling den and walked the streets with a premium set on his head by the members of the Denver sporting fraternity, whom he opposed. In the sporting fraternity he was noted as a crooked faro dealer and has barely escaped arrest several times for swindling players.

HAZING BEE ENDS IN A SHOOTING

Madison, Wis., June 9.—(Special.)—The latest escapade at the state university was indulged in by a party of students at midnight Saturday, had a disastrous and nearly fatal ending for one of the hazers, a student named Kopplin, of LaVale, who had the calf of his leg punctured by a bullet from the revolver of the principal victim of the hazers, Henry A. Herman of New London. The wound is not serious.

The hazers went to Herman's room, forced him to accompany them to the lake shore, and then dive from the end of the boat nose pier into the lake. Charles A. Hansen of Milwaukee, was the next victim. Then the hazers collided with Herman again, and he was ducked into the lake a second time. The crowd followed him back from the lake, and he finally turned with a revolver in his hand and told them to keep away. Believing the revolver was not loaded, or that he would not use it, some of the crowd rushed in on him, and in some manner the weapon was discharged, the bullet taking effect in the leg of Kopplin, who was standing at the edge of the crowd, and it is said was not taking an active part in the affair.

Herman is very remorseful over the result of the affair. He says he had no intention of shooting anyone, but only drew the revolver to keep the hazers away.

THEORIES THAT IGNORE FACTS

Senator Whitehead Shows Fallacy of the Governor's Tax Plan.

IS NOT PRACTICAL

In His Message to Legislature La Follette Forgot The Work of Commission.

A VERY ABLE LETTER

In his seventh letter on the taxation subject State Senator John M. Whitehead gives extended quotations from the text of Gov. LaFollette's message to the legislature on this much mooted subject and then shows the theoretical ideas of the state's chief executive are contrary to the facts that really exist.

Attention is called to the fact that in his letter the governor ignores the work done by the first tax commission and merely generally states what the work amounted to.

The letter in full follows:
Janesville, Wis., June 9, 1902.
To The Gazette:

A sentence from the Governor's message, quoted in a former letter, will bear repeating: "The Constitution, and well-observed custom, make it the duty of the Executive to submit to the Legislature upon its assembling his views respecting legislation and such recommendations as he may have to make." The Legislature may therefore look to the Executive for information in regard to the condition of the state, and it would pay special heed to his recommendations concerning Legislation. The Tax Commission, established by the Legislature, is also a source to which the Legislature should look for suggestions and information. The inaugural message of the Governor and the annual report of the Tax Commission are likely and properly to be regarded by the Legislature as the principle sources from which are to be derived both the suggestions of and the needful information in respect to the work of taxation legislation that will best promote the welfare of the state.

I do not discover, in the Governor's inaugural message to the last Legislature, any reference to the report of the first Tax Commission. The report discussed somewhat at length the taxation of notes, bonds, mortgages, and other securities. It is a part of the accumulated legislative literature on the subject of taxation, and it has entered permanently into the legislative though upon the subject. It is a part of the foundation upon which an improved system is to rest. The present Commission are building upon it. The intelligent legislator will not cast aside. Rather than to attempt to epitomize or re-state their conclusions, I prefer to quote their language as fully as space will allow. I therefore make some citations from the report of 1898:

"The omission of this kind of property from assessment is perhaps the most noticeable of all defects in the administration of our tax laws, and in popular discussions the subject receives perhaps more consideration than any other. It might seem, therefore, that the topic requires more extended consideration by the commission than any other. It is not deemed necessary, however, to go into any extended examination or presentation of statistics to show that such property largely escapes taxation. That it does so escape is virtually conceded by all who have given the subject consideration."

"Again, very large numbers of people regard the taxation of moneys loaned and full taxation also of the property upon which the loan is secured, as double taxation which they have a moral right to evade. As the property itself cannot ordinarily be hidden, the intangible thing, the mortgage, is kept out of sight if possible."

"Consequently, no data are obtainable from assessment statistics to show what amount of mortgages are actually included in any assessment, and the commission have been obliged to rely on other sources of information. While they have not been able to obtain definite data from any source, they feel fully warranted in the conclusion that only a very small proportion of mortgages liable to taxation in this state are in fact assessed. The information obtained on this subject comes largely from well informed citizens and from assessors and other officers of experience in administering the tax laws."

"Discussion of ways and means to prevent the omission of these intangible form of property from assessment is as nearly threadbare as discussion of the practice itself. A considerable number of the ablest investigators have frankly declared that the direct taxation of intangible assets, as property, by the valuation method is wholly impracticable as to those who seek to evade and very unjust as to those who do not. But the greater number of suggestions and demands have been for more stringent laws and more drastic methods to compel individuals to disclose what they have of this kind of property and to compel assessors to discover and assess the same."

"State legislatures have frequently enacted laws of this character and many states have for years maintained most rigid systems in this respect, but in no case have we found that substantial

HUNDREDS HEAR THE NEW ORGANS

DEDICATION SERVICES AT THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

Memorial Gifts of David Jeffris and Mrs. Cornelia Webb, Are Formally Accepted and Consecrated—Rev. Denison Preaches a Masterly Sermon—The Evening Service of Song.

Two magnificent congregations that crowded the Congregational church to the very doors participated in the dedication of the new memorial organs yesterday. No more beautiful or impressive church services were ever held in the city than those in which the congregational church accepted the eloquent offerings of memorial love and consecrated them to the worship of the Eternal God.

Both the morning and evening services were devoted to the dedication of the organs and in both the note of praise and triumphal rejoicing was dominant. The morning was devoted to the dedicatory service proper and this was especially characterized by a spirit of deep reverence which added infinitely to its impressiveness.

E. D. Jardine, of Chicago, presided at the organ both morning and evening and his playing displayed at excellent advantage the magnificence of the instruments. His improvisation at the opening of the morning service was designed for the effective use of the organs and the great audience was thoroughly delighted with the music.

In Memoriam
The formal dedication of the organs was an impressive ceremony. Rev. Robert C. Denison opened it by reading the following memorial:

"The organ is given by David Jeffris in memory of Mrs. Grace Mount Jeffris, his wife, and of their son, Thomas Mount Jeffris. Mrs. Jeffris was a member of this church and active in its life from 1847 to her death in 1900. This was the church of the boyhood and young manhood of Thomas Jeffris. In memory of these two, whose interest was here, the church is helped to carry forward its work of giving Christ to the world."

The echo organ is given by Mrs. Cornelia Webb, as a memorial to her husband James A. Webb, who was for many years a member of the congregation and served the church as a trustee. Mrs. Webb's gift was used for thirteen years in the former organ and now appears in new form to aid the children's choir and enrich the worship of the church."

The Gifts Consecrated
Pastor and congregation then repeated, while standing, the following form of dedication, following it with the singing of the Gloria:

"As the offerings of Memorial love, given in faith and with the high desire to advance the Kingdom of Christ in this and future generations, we accept these instruments of praise, and in grateful acknowledgment of his goodness and mercy, we joyfully and solemnly dedicate them forever to the glory of the Eternal God:

"We consecrate them to the service of the people of this city and this church to the uplifting of thoughts and the ennobling of lives. May their music melt the hard heart and rest the weary, may it be like a bugle call to those who hesitate and to those who mourn like the sound of a beloved voice; and through the passing years, to all who listen here, may it speak of the true and pure, the tender and eternal things of Christ."

The Dedicatory Hymn
Prayer by the pastor, with the response by the choir, was followed by the singing of the dedicatory hymn, the words of which were composed by Rev. Denison. This was a beautiful number, being made the more effective by the manner in which it was sung. The large chorus choir sang the first verse, choir and congregation united in singing the second, the children's choir alone gave the third verse in which the sentiment concerned the singing of the children. Mrs. S. B. Lewis sang the fourth as a solo and choir and congregation sang the last two verses. The words of the song are poetic and the sentiment exquisite, possessing added value to the members of the Congregational church because they were written by the beloved pastor of the church.

Rev. Denison's sermon was a masterpiece, inspired, inspiring and thoroughly in harmony with the occasion. His choice of subject, "From Generation to Generation," was happy and appropriate, being emphasized by the sentiment beneath which the memorial tributes appeared on the church calendar, "Becoming as is meet and fit, a link among the years to knit the generations each to each."

As his text Rev. Denison selected the 40th verse of the 11th chapter of Hebrews, "God having provided some better thing for us that they without us should not be made perfect." In introduction the speakers said that the occasion naturally turned the thoughts of those deeply interested in the church to the past and to the forces which had built the church. It was not made of brick and wood alone but of the love and faith of those who had worshipped there. Its foundation was their faith in God and the aspirations of men were its life and hope.

Inheritors of the Past
Into every man's lap has fallen an inheritance from the past. In one sense there is no man but the self-made man for no man can live a brave life, fight the moral fight, conquer temptation and be pure for another. In a larger, truer sense there is no such thing as a self-made man. The richest, strongest and best man is the inheritor of the ages past. The generations are all woven together and one generation never ends and another never begins. Lives are dovetailed together. Since the beginning life has been woven into a seamless garment.

Gifts From The Past
Rev. Denison then spoke of the many things which the past has given to the present, merely referring to the physical things, the homes, churches and schools, and dwelling especially on the spiritual things. The past gives a sense of conviction and absolute decision as to what is the truth. Out of the world's successes there is only one voice, the generations that are past have only one cry that to serve God is best.

The best inheritance from the past is its incompleteness. Nothing in the past is complete until the present generation completes it. If Christianity were to remain what it was in the middle ages or even what it is now, it would be very imperfect. The best thing the past has given the present is a work incomplete, a duty to be finished.

Duty To The Future
The present generation must do its best toward bettering and completing the work of the past and it must leave an inheritance to the generations yet to come. It must give the future freedom to link its own thoughts and live its life and it must leave something that will abide.

The present occasion might impress many with the thought that only the rich can bestow gifts on the future, but the value of a man's gift is never to be measured by money but by the spirit of the giving. The Kingdom of God is built of love and service and the man who serves his own generation best serves best the generations yet to come. There is comfort in the knowing that the present does not have to finish things. Man has only to see that he begins right and sometimes he will see the little service he rendered made perfect by the generations which follow.

Music Was Inspiring
The vocal music for the occasion was given exquisitely by the chorus choir of twenty-five voices, with Mrs. A. O. Wilson as leader and by the children's choir, directed by Mrs. W. S. Jeffris. The evening service was one of the grand inspiring music, both choirs singing beautifully. The value of the echo organ was appreciated during the anthems given by the children's choir in the rear gallery. Solos by Mrs. A. O. Wilson, Mrs. S. B. Lewis and D. D. Bennett added to the pleasure of the audience.

A Word By The Pastor
Rev. Denison spoke very briefly on "The Music of Life" his thought being that of the object of all the services of the church and of its music was to try to inspire some life with the spirit of cheer, courage and depth that was in Christ. The cheerful life of courage, of high ideals and deep purposes is the singing life but lives will never sing the songs they ought or be as brave as they ought without the music in their hearts, without the Christ in their inner lives.

A Word by the Pastor
The evening service concluded with an organ duet, magnificently rendered by Mrs. F. F. Lewis and Mr. Jardine played a number of selections, having for an audience the choirs of other churches who had expressed a desire to hear him play. A large number of musicians gathered at the church and enjoyed the rare treat of hearing the organs played by their builder who is also an accomplished and talented organist.

CHILDREN'S DAY IN THE CHURCHES

The Services Yesterday Were Devoted Largely to the Little People.

Children's day was observed with appropriate exercises in four of the local churches yesterday, the Court Street M. E., First M. E., Baptist and Presbyterian. As is customary in this special day in the church year, the children to whom the day's exercises are dedicated, participated to a large extent in the exercises. A special feature of the day at both the Baptist and Presbyterian churches was the graduation of a class of children from the primary department and the attendant exercises.

At the Baptist church every member of the Sunday school was presented with a potted geranium as a souvenir of the day. The Baptists devoted the morning church service to the Children's Day exercises which were made especially impressive by the dedication of fourteen little children to the altar where the Rev. Richard M. Vaughan, the pastor, referred to the old time when mothers brought their children to Jesus. He spoke of the importance of the duty which parents owe to children in thus dedicating them to the service of Christ and offered a brief prayer of dedication.

The little people for whom this beautiful ceremony was performed were Harold Eugene Cox, Clara Belle Richards, Arthur Van Vranken, Raught, Theresa May Schultz, Mildred Louetta Smith, Earl R. Badger, Bessie Badger, Lester Dunwiddie, Wayland Vaughan, George Crossman, Vernon Wilcox, Mabel Richter, Thelma Johnson and Ray Howard Douglas. Rev. Vaughan presented each child with a card bearing its name and an appropriate sentiment, a white carnation being attached to each card.

The balance of the exercises included an appropriate address by the pastor, songs by the Sunday school, the infant class, the girls' chorus and the boys' choir, an anthem by the choir, recitations by Allen Welch, Maitland Palmer and Eva Badger, a drill by seven boys and the graduating exercises of the primary department, conducted by Miss Mary Barker. The graduates were Enid Bowman, Edgar Crissey, Lizzie Booth, Florence Gallup, Allan Dunwiddie, Rolly Hilton, Ethel Shaw, Clarence Patch, Helen Jeffris, Allan Welch, Nellie Skinner, Walter Block, Hazel Wilkerson, Ruth Sherman, Norman Hille, Margie Butler, Clara Schwartz, Alice Harvey, Bert Baker, Elmer Shaw, Maud Mable, Blanche Duller, Lizzie Davey, Mary Brown, Harry Hessemauer, Ethel Fletcher and Rose Baldinger.

At The Presbyterian Church
Both morning and evening services were devoted to Children's Day exercises at the Presbyterian church. In the morning there were recitations by Dorothy Wilcox, Charlie Funk, Fannie Erler and Robert Clark and songs by the girls' chorus and the choir. Leonard Mathews sang, "I Think When I Read That Sweet Story Of Old" beautifully and Rev. J. T. Henderson spoke appropriately. An interesting exercise was the graduation of ten children from the primary department of which Miss Matella Calkins has charge. The graduates were Clarence Blow, Stanley Metcalf, Winthrop Metcalf, Donald Stewart, John Mair, Grace Belding, Margaret Wray, Ethel Marsden, Myrtle Aldrich and Arlie Sutherland.

The program at the evening service was also an excellent one, the music being especially fine. Mrs. J. G. Rexford's solo, "The Song the Children Sing" and Wilma Soverhill's violin solo were gems. An anthem by three choir, songs by the girls' chorus and the boys' choir and duets by Merle Fulton and Pearl Baker and by Mabel Rustad and Gladys Heddes completed the musical program. Glimpses of the child epochs in the history of the modern Sunday school were given, the speakers being Fred Welch, Edna Wright, Frank Blair, Evelyn Packer, Anna Bess, Charles Galbraith and Russell Zeininger.

Court Street M. E. Church
During the morning service Rev. J. H. Tippet preached an able and interesting sermon to the children on "How to Tell a Boy's or a Girl's Fortune," talking for his text, Proverbs 20:11; "Even a child is known by his doings, whether his work be pure and whether it be right."

In the evening the children of the Sunday school gave an excellent program, consisting of exercises, recitations and songs. There were recitations by Nettie Truesdale, Blanche Ketchum, Constance Hobart, Hazel Ketchum, Nellie Joerg, Inez Farria, Paul Taylor, Gianna Wilson, Clarence Green, Mabel Hague, Lucile Emmons and vocal duets nicely given by Misses Nott, Williams and by Misses Rockwell and Peters and Rev. Tippet spoke briefly.

First M. E. Church
"The Conquering Christ" was the theme of the concert given at the First M. E. church last evening by the Sunday school assisted by the chorus choir. The school marched in singing Onward Christian Soldiers after which the program was given by the choir and by young ladies representing the different centuries. Miss Florence Rider was the principal speaker, representing the twentieth century. The other young ladies were Misses Elen McChesney, Eva Downing, Mary Dumphy, Gertrude Materson, Bertha Rutter, Minnie Cowan, Georgia Hunt, Pearl Linemann, Etta Hollis, Edith Tall, Clara Yates, Carrie Churm, Edna Parker, Hazel Alden, Hattie Avery and Cora Wilhelmy and Mrs. F. T. Richards. The program was a very interesting one, two excellent features being the addresses by Rev. James Churm and a soprano solo by Miss Olive Staples, of Milwaukee.

CHILDREN'S DAY IN THE CHURCHES

The Services Yesterday Were Devoted Largely to the Little People.

Children's day was observed with appropriate exercises in four of the local churches yesterday, the Court Street M. E., First M. E., Baptist and Presbyterian. As is customary in this special day in the church year, the children to whom the day's exercises are dedicated, participated to a large extent in the exercises. A special feature of the day at both the Baptist and Presbyterian churches was the graduation of a class of children from the primary department and the attendant exercises.

At the Baptist church every member of the Sunday school was presented with a potted geranium as a souvenir of the day. The Baptists devoted the morning church service to the Children's Day exercises which were made especially impressive by the dedication of fourteen little children to the altar where the Rev. Richard M. Vaughan, the pastor, referred to the old time when mothers brought their children to Jesus. He spoke of the importance of the duty which parents owe to children in thus dedicating them to the service of Christ and offered a brief prayer of dedication.

The little people for whom this beautiful ceremony was performed were Harold Eugene Cox, Clara Belle Richards, Arthur Van Vranken, Raught, Theresa May Schultz, Mildred Louetta Smith, Earl R. Badger, Bessie Badger, Lester Dunwiddie, Wayland Vaughan, George Crossman, Vernon Wilcox, Mabel Richter, Thelma Johnson and Ray Howard Douglas. Rev. Vaughan presented each child with a card bearing its name and an appropriate sentiment, a white carnation being attached to each card.

The balance of the exercises included an appropriate address by the pastor, songs by the Sunday school, the infant class, the girls' chorus and the boys' choir, an anthem by the choir, recitations by Allen Welch, Maitland Palmer and Eva Badger, a drill by seven boys and the graduating exercises of the primary department, conducted by Miss Mary Barker. The graduates were Enid Bowman, Edgar Crissey, Lizzie Booth, Florence Gallup, Allan Dunwiddie, Rolly Hilton, Ethel Shaw, Clarence Patch, Helen Jeffris, Allan Welch, Nellie Skinner, Walter Block, Hazel Wilkerson, Ruth Sherman, Norman Hille, Margie Butler, Clara Schwartz, Alice Harvey, Bert Baker, Elmer Shaw, Maud Mable, Blanche Duller, Lizzie Davey, Mary Brown, Harry Hessemauer, Ethel Fletcher and Rose Baldinger.

PANAMA ROUTE NOW IN FAVOR

Senator Hanna Says a Majority of the Senate Will Vote for It.

CHANGE ON EXPERT'S OPINION

Professor Hellprin's Investigation at St. Vincent, Revealing an Active Belt, Causes Many to Shift from the Nicaragua Canal.

Washington, June 9.—Senator Hanna said that a clear majority of the Senate is now for the Panama route. It is expected a vote will be reached in a week or ten days. Senator Mitchell, one of the leaders of the Nicaraguan forces, admits that they have not enough votes to pass the Hepburn or Nicaragua bill. There are probably six or eight senators who have not made up their minds as to how they will vote. Among these the tendency now is strongly toward the Panama route because of the dangers of volcanic disturbances in Nicaragua. Much attention has been given by senators to a Fort de Franco cablegram from Professor Angelo Hellprin, the well known geologist, who recently ascended Mont Pelee, in which he said:

"My study of what has happened here throws added light on the isthmian canal question. The catastrophe here is without parallel. Its relation with conditions at St. Vincent establishes a long volcanic circuit, whose existence should dispose of Nicaragua as a canal route. The conditions here and at St. Vincent establish exclusively an increase and not a decrease of volcanic phenomena in the Caribbean gulf region. The facts all prove the broader volcanic force, and that reliance for the protection of a canal running through a volcanic country like Nicaragua on the localization of volcanic force, its assumed dormancy or the resistibility of the canal to its force is absurd."

Panama the Safer Route.
Professor Robert T. Hill of the United States geographical survey, who arrived from Martinique on the Dixie, said that Prof. Hellprin was correct in his contention that the Panama Canal route was safer than the Nicaragua. He further agreed with the Philadelphia scientist that Nicaragua was in the zone of volcanic eruptions, but he did not hold to the theory of any immediate danger of a violent outbreak in that part of the isthmus.

In an article written before the Martinique disaster Professor Hellprin said: "So far as danger from direct volcanic contacts is concerned, the Panama route is exempt. The case is very different from the Nicaragua route, whose whole line is laid across the almost continually volcanic tract that binds Costa Rica with Salvador, and which has been during the last three-quarters of a century probably the most violently eruptive of any in the western hemisphere. On the line of crustal weakness that is occupied by Lakes Nicaragua and Managua there are distributed over a linear distance of little more than 200 miles not less than twenty-five volcanoes, most of which have been active within a very modern period of time, while a number are still active to-day. A few actually lie within the basin of Lake Nicaragua itself."

With the lessons of Martinique and St. Vincent fresh in mind, Senator Hanna and his associates believe that we should be utterly inexcusable if we deliberately selected a route for an isthmian canal in a region so volcanic and dangerous, when a line which is exposed to none of these danger and in every other respect more advantageous is available.

SENATE FORECAST.

Interoceanic Canal Measure Will Take Up Greater Part of Week.

Washington, June 9.—The greater part of the time of the Senate the present week will be given to the interoceanic canal bill. An effort probably will be made by the supporters of the Nicaragua route to secure an agreement to vote on the bill next Saturday, but the probabilities are all against success. Senator Harris of Kansas will open the debate to-day in support of the Nicaragua route, and he will be followed by various other senators for and against the measure. Senator Fairbanks has given formal notice of a speech on Wednesday. He will support the Spooner bill. Senator Simmons of North Carolina will speak on the bill creating a national park in the southern Appalachian Mountains, and in accordance with the agreement the morning hour of other days will be devoted to consideration of Senator Nelson's bill for the abolition of the London dock charges until a vote shall be taken upon it. Saturday after 4 o'clock the Senate will listen to enclaves on the late Representative Stokes of South Carolina. On Friday the nomination of General William Crozier to be chief of the ordinance bureau will be considered in executive session. It is probable that Senator Hale will call up the naval appropriation bill during the week, but he has given no notice of such intention.

Rural Delivery Service.

Washington, June 9.—Rural free delivery service will be established July 25 at Somerville, Gibson county, Ind.; Dane, London, Mazomanie, Basco, McFarland, Riley, Dane county, Wis.

Additional service will be given on the same date to Haubstadt, Oakland City, Princeton, Gibson county, Ind.; Blue Mounds, Belleville, Cambridge, Madison, Mount Horeb, Oregon, Staughton, Sun Prairie, Verona, in Dane county; Brooklyn, Greene county; Edgerton, Rock county, Wis.

HOUSE OUTLOOK.

Pacific Cable and Senate Irrigation Bill to Be Disposed Of.

Washington, June 9.—The house programme for this week contemplates consideration of the Pacific cable and the senate irrigation bills, which the rules committee is anxious to have disposed of before the time set for taking up the Philippine government bill. Special rules have been prepared for consideration of both measures. The cable bill provides for an American built and an American laid cable to connect our insular possessions in the Pacific with the Pacific coast. It carries a direct appropriation out of the treasury for this purpose. The prospects for its passage are not considered bright. Mr. Corliss, the author of the bill, professes confidence that it will pass. The opposition to the measure believes the cable to the Philippines should be laid by private enterprise. Some of the house leaders, including Mr. Cannon, chairman of the appropriation committee, it is understood, will oppose the irrigation bill, but the friends of the measure are very hopeful of its passage. To-day is District of Columbia day. All the appropriation bills except the general deficiency, which will not be ready until next week, have passed the house.

Sign Denmark Protocol.

Washington, June 9.—Secretary Hay and Mr. Brunt, the Danish minister, have signed a protocol extending for twelve months the time allowed for the exchange of ratifications of the Danish West Indian treaty. This allows for the adjournment of the Danish rigsdag over the summer months without final action on the treaty of cession.

Dismisses Woman Clerk.

Washington, June 9.—Miss Rebecca J. Taylor of Wisconsin, a clerk in the adjutant general's office, war department, was summarily dismissed by Secretary Root for severely criticizing the president in a letter written to a local newspaper and published in its columns.

SEES HUSBAND KILL HIMSELF

Wife Began Farmer Not to Commit Suicide, But in Vain.

Springfield, Ill., June 9.—While his wife pleaded with him to desist, Samuel Bohn, a well-known farmer living near Elkhart, placed the muzzle of a shotgun to his chin and blew his head off. The suicide took place at the Bohn home. Mrs. Bohn had risen first and when she called her husband to breakfast she found the door of his room locked. Through a window she saw him sitting in bed with the gun in his hands. He told her his intentions, and while she implored him to live for herself and their children he committed the deed.

Electric Storm at Kokomo.

Kokomo, Ind., June 9.—Severe wind and electric storms which passed over the city and surrounding country caused a loss to farmers of $200,000. Fine residences and fine barns were blown down. In the storm's path the growing crops were ruined and trees and fences were destroyed. A large schoolhouse twelve miles west of here was destroyed by lightning.

Big Gold Nugget.

Seattle, Wash., June 9.—The largest gold nugget ever found in the north has been picked up beside Solomon Hill and Monte Cristo Gulch, Klondike. It weighs 320 ounces and contains $4,800 worth of gold.

Lynch a Negro.

Bluefield, W. Va., June 9.—John Wymick, a colored miner, charged with assaulting Mary Green, was taken from jail at Bondtown and lynched. Wymick's body was riddled with bullets.

Saloons Violate Law.

Eau Claire, Wis., June 9.—Rev. J. W. Frissel and Rev. L. C. Grant made a tour of the saloons and found a number open after 11 o'clock, the hour proscribed by ordinance for closing.

Oregon to Have a New Railway.

Portland, Ore., June 9.—It is now stated positively that a railroad will be built between Coos Bay and Roseburg, and that construction will be begun by Sept. 1 at the latest.

Man Drowns; Women Are Saved.

Portsmouth, N. H., June 9.—Paul Costello was rowing with his wife and daughter, when the boat was upset and he was drowned. Mrs. Costello and daughter were rescued.

Shot Five Times.

Osceola, Mo., June 9.—William T. Moore, a furniture dealer of Lowry City, was shot five times by Thomas J. Prosser on a street of that town and fatally wounded.

Hensel Found Guilty.

Sterling, Ill., June 9.—Charles A. Hensel was found guilty of the murder of his wife and sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary.

BOYCOTT FOR NONUNION MEN

Dealers Refuse to Sell to Customers Who Are Not Union Members.

STRIKERS GET ACCESSIONS

Additions Being Made to Their Ranks by Those Who Remained in the Mines—Commissioner Wright to Make an Investigation.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 9.—The boycott is now the weapon the striking mine workers are using with much effect. The edict seems to have gone forth that there shall be no violence, but that the boycott lines shall be rigidly drawn, not only around those who work in defiance of the strike but about all their relations. It is now next to impossible for these unfortunates to make any purchases. The wise men refuse to serve them.

Wilkesbarre and its surrounding country seems to be the storm center of this form of warfare. The tradesmen apparently are overawed and lend themselves to the work of trying to starve out those who persist in working. In some instances this form of tyranny is having harsh results. A man employed by the Delaware and Hudson company refused to obey the strike order and continues at work. His brother, a cripple, is a school teacher and has been informed by the school committee that he must give up his school unless his brother quits work. Two other brothers and a sister have been discharged from places where they were employed.

A committee waited on the school board of Plains and demanded the discharge of Miss McCae, who has an uncle who is working as an engineer in pumping out one of the mines.

Everybody who works here, including clerks, is a member of some kind of a union. This makes the boycott weapon a powerful one and it will be used from now on for all it is worth.

Mr. Mitchell said he had received some reports from the strike in the Virginias, but not enough on which to make a statement.

Operators Are Satisfied.

The following statement of the situation was authorized by the operators: "At the end of the first four weeks of the strike our position is very satisfactory. While we have no miners or other coal producers at work we have enough engineers, firemen, and pump runners to keep our mines from being damaged and are not only confident of keeping them, but are adding to the force as we need them. The position of the companies is perfectly secure, not a single one has granted any of the demands made by mine workers or steam makers, and not one intends to do so."

There is no doubt that Mr. Mitchell is making a strong effort to induce the strikers to keep the peace, for he fully grasps the fact that a single serious disturbance would bring out the state troops.

WRIGHT WILL ACT.

President Orders Labor Commissioner to Investigate Strike.

Washington, June 9.—Commissioner of Labor Carroll D. Wright has arrived in Washington in response to a telegraph summons by the president to discuss the strike of the anthracite coal miners. It was suggested to the president two or three days ago that under the law creating the department of labor Commissioner Wright might be authorized to conduct an investigation of the present coal strike under the auspices of the federal government.

Half and Half.

The dyspeptic may well be represented pictorially as being half masculine and half feminine, and combining the least desirable characteristics of either sex. He has all the stubbornness of the man with the peevish irritability of the sick woman. He's not a pleasant company at home or abroad.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the stomach and associated organs of digestion and nutrition. It renews physical health which carries with it cheerfulness of temper and makes life a pleasure instead of a penance.

The "Discovery" purifies the blood by eliminating the corrupt and poisonous accumulation from which diseases breed. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands, so increasing the supply of pure rich blood, which gives life to every organ of the body. It gives new life and new strength.

Your "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed a wonderful cure. "Mr. M. H. House, of Charleston, Franklin Co., Ark. 'I had the worst case of dyspepsia, the doctors say, that they ever saw. After trying seven doctors and everything I could hear of, with no benefit, I tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and now I am cured.'"

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUSES

The Republican caucuses to elect delegates to the county convention will be held throughout the county Tuesday, June 17. In the towns these caucuses will open at 2 o'clock p. m., and in the villages at 7:30 in the evening. Two sets of delegates will be elected. One to attend the county convention to be held at the Court House, July 8, for the purpose of electing delegates to the state convention, the other to attend the county convention at the Court House, July 10, to nominate county officers. The call in detail is published in another part of the paper. These caucuses are very important and should be attended by every republican.

THE McLAUGHRAY CASE

The local LaFollette organ says the governor is censured for investigating the complaints made against the warden. That is not done by any sensible person. The complaint is that it was done secretly, and, of course, wholly on one side. Is that an investigation? Does any one think for a moment that the whole truth, which alone should decide the matter, could be got by such a process? Does any one believe that the whole truth was wanted when that method was adopted? (Is there a public officer of any grade against whom charges could not be brought by that way of seeking them? There is no safety for any appointee if that method is to be pursued by the governor. The officer stands no show against it. In making this statement, the organ admits that the governor did instigate the inquiry in the underhanded way indicated. If any appointee is pursued by the chief executive in this manner, the quicker he gets out, the better for him, but not for the good of the state. A vigorous defense would expose the contemptible means used, even though it might save the appointee from dismissal.

In refusing to fight, under these circumstances, the warden does not acknowledge the charges against him. No considerate man will so hold. He denies them emphatically, but does not choose to undergo the needless annoyance and expense to fight a removal already determined on. Under the method adopted by the governor in this one-sided and covert "investigation", it would be very strange if he did not formulate a "severe indictment". He could not fail to do so. He picks his witnesses, rejects what he does not want, while his position makes willing witnesses through hope of favor and a certainty of immunity. It takes no great ability and no particular facts to formulate a "severe indictment" under such conditions.

The board was not consulted; it was left in ignorance of the governor's intention till it had committed itself to McLaughry. Then it backs water and obeys the orders of the governor. It is forced to confess its own subservience and admit that it was blind and incompetent. It does this act of abnegation as best it may, but leaves the evidences of it sticking out at every corner. It is the defense: not McLaughry. He is out. The public wants to know why this conspiracy was used against the warden, who was considered a good officer by those whose business it was to know. It can be easily understood why there were those about the prison and in its vicinity who did not like his methods, if he was the excellent officer the board believed him to be. Waupun does not own the prison and should not run it. If the interests of the state were the thing concerned, the thing ought to have been done openly: state affairs are public affairs and not matters for concealment. The public wants no gum-shoe business in its affairs.—Milwaukee Journal.

GOOD ADVICE.

"Fair-minded democrats" is a phrase in the argot of the LaFollette republicans in Wisconsin, who claim that Democratic voters should support their faction in opposition to the anti-LaFollette faction.

The Milwaukee leading LaFollette organ says: "There is a considerable sprinkling of Wisconsin democrats who have as good a legal moral and ethical right to participate in the republican caucuses and conventions this year as any republican has." This is an invitation asking democrats to appear at the republican primaries and vote for LaFollette delegates to the state convention.

The phrase "fair-minded democrats" has been invented as applying to a class of democrats who might be induced to assist the LaFollette machine in overthrowing the anti-LaFollette machine.

If there are any democrats in Wisconsin who think that their duty requires them to join the LaFollette faction or any other republican faction, they should go and soak their heads in order to be cured.

Democrats should stand by themselves.—Chicago Chronicle.

The Chronicle should be considered good democratic authority. The bare-faced methods employed by the administration forces in Wisconsin, prompts the "Chronicle" to offer the advice, quoted.

The governor's stock in trade is largely of the reform brand. He advocates a primary law to purify politics, and prates about "God's patient poor, while posing as the friend of oppressed humanity, and the embodiment of indignant purity."

He damns the "machine" while sweating as a machinist, and aspires to construct and run an engine without a safety valve. Failing of support in his own party and possessed of consuming personal ambition, he calls to his aid the democratic party, willing to sacrifice political honor to gain a renomination.

Paid emissaries, under the guise of game wardens and oil inspectors, are traveling the state at the expense of tax-payers, in a frantic effort to enlist democratic support.

Every disreputable saloon is a rallying point for the forces of this great reformer, who in his ambition to govern the state, presents to the people a picture of desperation without rival.

The element of democracy that participated in the republican caucuses recently held in Janesville, is a sample of the "fair-minded" democrats who are willing to lend themselves to this class of dirty work. They represented nothing in way of property but the beer with which they were loaded. They lacked the element of self-respect, and it required the combined effort of the governor's henchmen, to hold them in line.

If the governor is renominated, it will be as the result of this kind of support. If that is republicanism "God save the state."

The Milwaukee Free Press, the recognized organ of the governor attempts to defend these nefarious methods. This is not occasion for surprise, but it should serve as a warning to every republican in the state, who places party welfare above personal ambition.

The republican party is to decide very soon, whether it is entitled to existence and supremacy in the state. The conservative element of the party is not asking for democratic support in its primary work.

While it is true that the better element of democracy has deserted Bryanism for self protection, and are as rigidly opposed to that sort of fanaticism today as they were when it was an issue, it is also true that this class of democrats are not taking part in republican primaries. They possess common sense and have some regard for common decency. LaFollette does not expect their support in the caucuses, and his emissaries are not seeking it. The "fair-minded" dodge is simply a blind, and democrats understand this just as well as the men who are working the scheme.

Senator Whitehead is a republican, and the governor professes to be. The convention that places in nomination either one of these gentlemen, should be republican in fact as well as in name. It should represent a republican constituency, pure and simple.

THE TELEPHONE

Up in Eau Claire is a German musician, who extracts sweet music from the zither. He wanted to make an appointment one evening recently with his friend Fritz, so he stepped into a store and said:

"Yon, could I talk mld your telephone?"

John said, "Sure; youst help yourself."

So he stepped up to the telephone and standing up in front of it, without taking down the receiver, shouted:

"Fritz, vas dat you already, vel I be comin down tonight mit my zither, you youst stay home and we play to-gader, vonce."

Then he turned around and walked out, saying to John, who was busy behind the counter:

"I tank you, Fritz and I vill make sweet music down by his house to-night, already."

At nine o'clock, when John went home, his German friend was sitting out on Fritz's veranda, wondering why Fritz failed to keep his appointment.

THE LA FOLLETTE CLUB

The Recorder of yesterday morning contained what purported to be a paid communication from an organization styling itself "The LaFollette club." The impression was given that this club was obliged to hire space in a democratic paper in order to get before the people. The suggestion has been made that it is perhaps so largely composed of "fair-minded" democrats that an organ of democratic faith is desirable.

If the "LaFollette club," whatever may be its political faith, will accept courtesies from the Gazette, the paper will be pleased to publish any communication it has to offer, free of charge. There is a long, cold winter coming, and money will be needed for coal, after this cruel war is over.

A congressman's wife in the northern part of the state, was told that they served ice cream in Washington in the rotunda. She gave a party recently and wanting to be in style, sent a telephone order to the store for five dozen rotundas. The merchant was a good deal surprised, and said: "Rotundas, what are you going to do with them?" "Why," she said, "Serve ice cream in them, of course." She got the dishes and preserved the style.

Oconto county presents the name of Judge David G. Classon as a candidate for the office of Attorney General. The Judge will be remembered as the young man who placed Mayor Scofield in nomination in 1894. He is a man of rare ability, and a good representative of conservative republicanism.

Walworth county was over-confident and lost 20 stalwart delegates as a result. One ward in Elkhorn was a tie and in another the vote was 19 to 20. A little attention would have saved every delegate in the county. The convention will elect a solid Whitehead delegation as the majority is six to one.

The governor is not a good mixer with men who do not agree with him, but he gets close to the front when it comes to mixing up with State Institutions.

The fair-minded democrats, who propose to take part in the next republican caucuses, will be obliged to do some swearing that may not be very comfortable.

The continual activity of Mr. Pelee, is a constant reminder that Martinique is a poor place for a home.

Oregon elected a democratic Governor by a small plurality, but the balance of the ticket was republican by 13,000 majority. The governor was personally unpopular.

PRESS COMMENT.

Monroe Sentinel: Orlando Burnett gives LaFollette 100 majority in the coming state convention. As Orlando is never right, things, look bright for Whitehead.

Milwaukee Sentinel: As near as can be understood the members of the board of control confess that they know little about state institutions.

Milwaukee News: Maybe the state board of control also was not aware that it had condemned itself.

Oshkosh Northwestern: This is the time of the year when the hard worked clerk begins to anticipate the pleasures of his summer vacation and softly whistles to himself the cheerful strains of "A Life on the Ocean Wave," or "Swim out, O'Grady." But after his year's savings are gone it will take an entirely different time to properly express his feelings.

Hudson Star: Times: John M. Whitehead is a man of thought, and a man of action, but not a man of quarrelsomeness. He reaches results in a McKinley way, by giving due consideration to the opinions of others. Make him governor and the Wisconsin executive office will at once be elevated to a more respectful plane.

Only a competent man should succeed Warden McLaughry at Waupun and good prison wardens are harder to get than competent men on the Board of Control.—Madison Journal.

"Spooner Resolutions Fail," "LaFollette Men in Control." Those are two lines in the heading of the Free Press account of a district convention. Are they not significant? Wherever LaFollette men are in control Spooner stands no show. The Tomah Herald has contended all along that the fight in the Republican party today is between LaFolletteism and Spoonerism and there is no such thing as harmony between those forces. Let every man now take a stand—LaFollette or Spooner?—Tomah Herald.

Gov. LaFollette's right hand man, Frear, the Republican committeeman in St. Croix county, succeeded, we learn from the Governor's personal organ in Milwaukee, in defeating a resolution before the St. Croix county Republican convention endorsing Senator John C. Spooner for re-election. Frear succeeded in having the endorsement stricken out of the resolutions, we learn from the organ, "after a hard fight." Frear is the district attorney at Hudson and a trusted LaFollette lieutenant. The Milwaukee organ rejoices that the "Spooner part was cut out." Of course they did.—Tomah Monitor.

Muscular Rheumatism.

Mrs. W., aged 60, came to me with muscular rheumatism and partial paralysis of shoulder of one year's standing, she had tried medical treatment and had been to a sanitarium for some weeks without any help. Could easily move arms forward, but slight movement upward or backward found marked soreness around middle portion of deltoid and supraspinatus. Joint stiff; trapezius and serratus magnus involved. Gave treatment to increase activity of liver and kidneys, relaxed all muscles and tissues around the shoulder freeing the circulation and nerve forces. Patient practically cured in twelve treatments given three times a week. She was able to use her arms in attending to her household duties. The improvement continued after stopping the treatment and in two months she had regained normal strength and motion in her arm and shoulder.—Cosmopolitan Osteopath.

GASOLINE FUMES
START BAD BLAZE

Harold Myers Lights a Match While Using Fluid—Fire is the Result.

Harold Myers, son of J. H. Myers has learned something about gasoline that will teach him to be more careful with the fluid in the future, especially when there is a light about. Last evening Mr. Myers was in his room on the second floor of the Young America block on South Main street, cleaning some neckties. He was using gasoline for the purpose and had a small dish of the fluid on his table. The room soon became filled with the fumes of the gasoline and all it needed was a light to start the dangerous stuff going. It was getting along towards dusk and Mr. Myers struck a match to light the gas. In an instant the room was all ablaze from the lighted gasoline fumes and it looked as if the building would catch fire. Mr. J. H. Myers was in the hallway near the room and saw the blaze. He rushed into the room and after a hard fight succeeded in putting the fire out, but not until it had done considerable damage to the curtains and other hangings of the rooms. Several people stood across the street from the rooms and saw the fire. They were about to turn in an alarm, as the fire was in a bad place if it ever got started, but saw that Mr. Myers and his son had it under control so did not call out the department.

LAST WEEK OF SCHOOL

This is the last week of the present school year and next Friday teachers and pupils in the public schools will be released from the work of the school room and enter upon the enjoyment of a summer vacation. This last week will be devoted largely to tests and final examinations, especially in the grades. At the High School the work of both the Senior and Junior classes has been completed and the class rooms begin to have the deserted and lonesome appearance of vacation time. There is a bustle of activity throughout the building, owing to the preparations for the commencement exercises which begin tomorrow evening.

Mrs. Lucius Ford, of Oswego, N. Y., is visiting her cousins, C. N. and M. T. Riker, at their home, 152 South High street.

Mrs. H. C. Staples and daughter, Miss Olive, of Milwaukee, former residents of this city are the guests of their daughter and sister, Mrs. H. E. Cary, at her home, 254 South Bluff street.

COUNCIL MEETING TONIGHT

The city fathers will meet in regular session this evening at the council chambers. The only matter of special importance to come before the meeting is the report of the street assessment committee on the macadamizing of Milton avenue, from East street to St. Mary's avenue. Blake Bros., of Madison, were the lowest bidders and no doubt the contract for the work will be awarded to them. The Municipal court report for the month of May will be presented and in all probability the petition of the residents of South Second street in regard to the sidewalk line on that street.

FRIGHTENS THIEF WITH REVOLVER

Mrs. J. M. Chandler Finds Burglar in Her Flat and Scares Him Off

Mrs. Z. M. Chandler, who resides with her husband in the Fredendall flats on South Main street, lately had an experience with a burglar that she does not care to repeat very soon.

Mr. Chandler is an insurance agent in the employ of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, and is away from home quite often on business trips. Last Thursday night he was away from home and Mrs. Chandler was alone in the flat. In the middle of the night she was awakened by a noise in the room adjoining her bed room and taking a revolver she had under the pillow she lighted the gas and started forth to investigate the noise.

Seeing The Burglar

As she walked out of her bed room into the adjoining room, she was surprised to see a big "nigger" step out of a closet he had been ransacking. She raised the pistol she was carrying as if to shoot and the "nigger" without waiting to see whether she could shoot, ducked out through a rear door and escaped. Mrs. Chandler made an investigation to see how he got into the flat and found he had come up the rear stairway onto the outside porch and had forced one of the windows opening onto it.

Was Perfectly Cool

Mrs. Chandler did not feel at all frightened when she discovered the burglar, but after he had gone she did not sleep and after barring the window sat up and waited for morning gun in hand.

Gives Good Description

She had a good look at the coon and said he was dressed in a blue flannel shirt blue overalls and a soft black hat. She did not think she could recognize him if she saw him again and as he did not secure any plunder she did not notify the police.

May Be Same Burglar

This coon may be the same burglar that committed the burglary at the Rev. R. C. Denison's home the night before and might possibly have been the one that entered C. N. Van Kirk's residence.

or satisfactory results have been obtained. Prof. Fly, in his work on taxation, speaking of such systems, says: "It is characteristic of this system that the more you perfect it the worse you make it."

The Commissioners cited the state of Ohio as an illustration of what had been attempted and accomplished by drastic legislation and cited from the report of the Ohio Commissioners two of their "chief recommendations" as follows:

"1. That the most inequitable features of their tax laws be repealed.
"2. That there be better administration of the tax laws by placing the assessing machinery in the hands of capable, disinterested and independent agents removed from the immediate influence of popular favor or displeasure, whose term of service will justify them in giving, if necessary, their entire time to the work, such agents to consist of a state board, to be appointed by the governor from different political parties; county boards, to be appointed by the state board, and assessors of local districts to be appointed by the county boards."

"While fully concerning in the conclusion reached in other states, that an attempt to tax directly most forms of intangible assets is only partially successful, and that so far as successful the law operates quite unequally, we are still unable to recommend the repeal of the law for the taxation of such property at the present time. Our chief reason for this is the want of a complete substitute meeting our approval. The habitation tax in Massachusetts and the somewhat similar plan proposed in New York are the only complete substitutes thus far suggested. We are not inclined to recommend either of these at the time. Their practicability has not been demonstrated in this country; their adoption would involve radical changes; and as to such propositions we think it best to wait until a trial in other commonwealths has shown them to be feasible. This leaves us to the suggestion of such improvements and partial substitutes as seem practicable and desirable."

"We recommend that the entire machinery of assessments be placed in the hands, or at least under the supervision, of capable and disinterested agents whose term of office, compensation and mode of selection shall be such as to remove them as far as possible from the influence of political or popular favor or displeasure, and enable them to devote their entire time to the work, such agents to have a responsible head in the person of a state officer or board. Under our present system there is practically no supervision of the administration of tax laws. That such supervision is necessary is shown by the fact that most of the existing evils are due to failure to properly administer the law rather than to faults in the law itself. The supervision suggested should extend to all administrative features as well as the matter of assessment. We have confidence that the assessment of intangible assets could be very materially increased and made much less inequitable in the hands or under the supervision, of such agents, and that without some such method very little improvement can be expected."

Although the Governor passed by the report of the Tax Commission of 1898 in silence, he treated of the subject now under consideration as follows:

"With no other class of property is there presented so flagrant an example of open disregard of law as in the case of bonds, mortgages, securities, and the average amount of money in possession and on deposit. A conservative estimate, based upon the latest accessible data together with the census figures of 1900, shows real estate mortgages in Wisconsin amounting to $110,000,000. This makes no account of unrecorded securities, computed at $165,000,000. It is therefore safe to say that not over five per cent. of the taxable notes, bonds and mortgages in the State pays any tax whatever."

"The average amount of money in possession and on deposit which the assessor succeeded in finding and returning as taxed in 1898 was only $7,163,444. On the first Monday in July, 1898, the state and private banks alone reported to the State Treasurer 'money on deposit' amounting to $40,976,312.70. The report of the United States comptroller of the currency shows that on the 5th day of May, 1898, the very month in which assessments were made, there was in the national banks of Wisconsin $46,224,201.... Or in both national state, and private banks on these two dates in 1898 an aggregate of $87,200,513.50. More than $80,000,000 wholly escaped taxation this year."

"I am aware that in the literature which has rapidly accumulated on the subject there is much speculative discussion of 'perfect theories' and 'new systems' which wholly eliminate the personal property tax. But there are certain elementary principles respecting taxation, the justice of which we believe in, the practicable operation of which we well understand, and from which, I am sure, no mere academic discussion will tempt you to depart."

"I know well that any attempt to place these shirking millions on the assessment rolls will be wholly futile, and end in paying a premium on perjury, increasing the interest rate, and driving money out of the State. But we should remember that no persistent, resolute, determined effort has been made to enforce the existing tax laws, much less correct their more manifest defects and give to their provisions vitality and force. In some States there has been spasmodic attempts to reach some classes of property, quickly discouraged and discredited, however, by those interested in others, paying their taxes. It is only that very recently that real, thorough-going tax reform has been generally inaugurated."

And when some adequate penalty has been attached to an assessor's failure to perform his duty; when it is made someone's business to see to it that the assessor obeys the law or pays the penalty; when individuals and corporations are subjected to the same searching examination as to concealment respecting taxable property that the fraudulent debtor now encounters in trying to avoid his other liabilities; when the attempt to make one's neighbor to pay one's taxes meets the same public condemnation and the same legal punishment that the individual encounters in trying to defraud the individual or the corporation—then the first of these objections will be effectually disposed of. The so-called intangible property—notes, bonds and mortgages—will then become tangible and assessable property."

"But it is said that the money will be driven out of the State before its owners will consent to pay the tax upon it. If it is driven out of the State where will it go? In every State in the Union public sentiment is strongly aroused and organization everywhere moving to make all taxable property, individual and corporate, meet its assessment and pay its taxes."

"On all sides laws are being revised and, in some states, constitutional amendments are being adopted to secure this result. It is reasonably certain that the day is at hand when no State in the Union will offer an asylum of refuge for capital seeking to evade the payment of taxes. Temporary transfers of limited amounts may be made. A few individuals may seek a change of residence. But we can spare the citizen who will expatriate himself rather than pay his taxes. It will be but a little while before the tax-dodger will find himself without a home and without a country. Furthermore it is not believed that not much incentive will remain for so removing property from the State, because adding to the assessor's rolls the immense volume of property which now escapes will largely reduce the rate of taxation from all classes of property."
